About Position:

The Wellbeing Navigator position is funded by Immigration, Refugees and Citizenship Canada (IRCC). Reporting to the Manager of Newcomer Settlement Programs, the Wellbeing Navigator plays a vital role in supporting eligible newcomer clients with complex physical and/or mental health needs by delivering personalized, client-centred well-being navigation services. Serving as a bridge between clients and a broad network of healthcare providers, social service agencies, and community organizations, the Wellbeing Navigator facilitates timely access to culturally and linguistically responsive services that are tailored to meet the needs of all clients. This role is instrumental in helping clients overcome barriers that impact their successful settlement and integration into Canadian society. Through a strengths-based and trauma-informed approach, the Wellbeing Navigator empowers clients to make informed decisions about their health and well-being while fostering the confidence and skills needed to navigate Canadian systems independently. The goal of the program is to support newcomers in becoming fully engaged in all
